IXth METEORITE CONFERENCE
Lodz Technical University, 3 – 5 June 2016

SUPPLEMENTARY SESSIONS AND ACTIVITIES

Workshop on Raman spectroscopy (Friday lunch, 30 min. three groups of maximum 6 people) organized by Molecular Laser Spectroscopy Laboratory at MITR PŁ www.mitr.p.lodz.pl/raman . The workshops are intended for scientists who want to learn techniques of Raman spectroscopy, including Raman imaging, or who want to make contact with a laboratory working in the field. During the workshops, participants will have a chance to learn about measurement capabilities of a confocal Raman microscope WITec Alpha 300RSA in meteorite analysis. Please, register only if you are interested in the workshop.

Night sky observations with a telescope and shows in the Experimentarium (Ary Sternfeld Planetarium and Astronomical Observatory in Lodz, 16 Pomorska St., www.planetarium.org.pl Friday, 18:30). You are invited to the stargazing (as the weather permits) at the first Planetarium in Lodz and shows of fascinating physics experiments.

Collegial dinner (Friday, 20:30)

Detailed location will be announced in due course. Please, send us information about dietary restrictions and requirements (e.g. vegetarian, vegan, gluten-free, alcohol-free, no-fat, no-protein, etc.), the organizers will try to meet your expectations.

Fulldome show at a digital planetarium at EC1 (Saturday, 15:00) www.planetariumec1.pl .

A fulldome 8K show at a recently opened digital planetarium of EC1. The show will comprise an interactive live part and a full-dome licensed show.

Tour around Lodz + Museum of Geology (Saturday, 16:00, approximately 2 hours)

The guided walking tour will begin immediately after the fulldome show at EC1. During the walk you will have a chance to learn about the turbulent history of Lodz blasted with the industrial revolution in the early nineteenth century. The tour will end at the Museum of Geology in Lodz at 31, Kopcinskiego St. where over a glass of wine you will see a geological exhibition including minerals and meteors.
